DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 2, 7-9, 11, 12 and 37-50 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 7, 11, 12, 37-42 & 44-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Haynes et al (GB 2 322 521).

Regarding claims 1, 37 and 44, Haynes teaches a method of negotiating operating capabilities in a telecommunications system including at least one mobile station, the method comprising: receiving a first list of operating capabilities for a first mobile station at a first node upstream of and associated with the first mobile station wherein the list is received prior to setting up a call with the mobile station (page 19, 3rd ¶ - page 20, line 3), storing the operating capabilities for the first mobile station at the first node (page 20, 2nd ¶ & page 2, 2nd ¶), receiving a second list of operating capabilities for a second mobile station at a second node upstream of and associated with the second mobile station wherein the list is received prior to setting the call with the second mobile station, storing the operating capabilities for the second mobile station at the second node (page 25, 1st ¶) and comparing the second list to the first list such that the negotiation of agreed upon operating capabilities take place between the first node and the second node (page 26, 1st ¶).

Regarding claims 2, 41 and 48, Haynes teaches the receiving includes: receiving the first list of operating capabilities from the first mobile station via a location update message (page 33, 1st ¶).

Regarding claim 7, Haynes teaches selecting the agreed-upon operating capabilities based on operating capabilities that are in common on both lists (page 33, 2nd ¶- page 34, 1st ¶).

Regarding claim 11, Haynes teaches the first node is any one of a MSC, a VLR, a HLR or a GMSC (figure 1).

Regarding claims 12, 46 and 47, Haynes teaches the second node is a MSC, a VLR, a HLR or a GMSC (figure 1).

Regarding claims 38 and 45, Haynes teaches the storing is performed by a Visitor Location Register (figure 1, element 12).

Regarding claims 39, Haynes teaches the reviewing by the second switch is performed by a Gateway Mobile Switching Center (GMSC) serving the second mobile station (figure 1, elements 32).

Regarding claim 40, Haynes teaches the reviewing by the second switch is performed by a Mobile Switching Center (MSC) serving the second mobile station (figure 1, element 8A).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 8, 9, 43 and 50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Haynes et al (GB 2 322 521).

Regarding claims 8, 9, 43 and 50, Welling fails to specifically disclose the operating capabilities include codecs and security algorithms. However, official notice is taken that having operating capabilities include codecs and security algorithms is well known in the art. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time invention was made to have Haynes's already existing operating capabilities include codecs and security algorithms in order to provide Welling with the ability to convert binary signals transmitted on their digital networks to analog signals converted on their analog networks.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

US 6,456,843 Method and apparatus for over-the-air programming of telecommunication services.
